When the deputies were in their places, minister of the interior Garza Aldape entered the chamber. Simultaneously several hundred federal troops lined up in front of the chamber. Senor Aldape ascended to the platform and read the reply of president Huerta warning him of the deputies intention to dissolve the parliament and hold their seasions elsewhere and demanding an investigation of the disappearance of senator Dominages. The reply said that president Huerta could do no less than consider the resolution an act of unjustified aggression and transgression of the rights of the other two powers—the executive and the courts.

When the arrests were made, a few of the leaders were placed in automobiles while other deputies were taken to the penitentiary in street carss.

Meanwhile similar demands to recant had been made upon members of the senate who had concurred in the chamber. Simultantic to hold session during fair week. The program of sports at the fair grounds included three ball games, motorcycle and running horse races.

DAIRY INTERESTS HOLD A MEETING

(By L. P. Boyce.) LBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 11 .-New Mexico's first fair under the direction of the state fair commission, closes tonight, a financial suc-

trial is in prospect in the Orner case. The case was given to the jury late Friday, and Saturday morning it reported that an agreement had not been reached and asked the fudge to discharge the members.

Joseph M. Nealon opened the argument for the state and spoke about 45 minutes. He reviewed the testimony and closed his argument by saving that "God had implanted in the human breast as a protection to mankind and society, a spark which we call 'conscience,' and through it the guilty are prompted to confess. In this case," he said, "from the defendant's own lins came the strongest testimony against her, when she confessed. I have killed Lillie, what shall I do?"

Explains Allexed Confession.

Mr. Nealon was followed by Chas. Owen, who made a brief argument on the failure of the state to make out a case against the defendant, and who accounted for the alleged confession by the alleged fact that J. J. Kaster had stated to take the body for embalming, that the defendant would have to stand trial for the death of the child, and that she had better be prepared for it, which statement, Mr. Owen said, had worked upon the mind of the defendant to such an extent that it became an obsession with her, and thus she may have made the incriminating statement attributed to her.

Judge Joe Irby followed Mr. Owen for the defence, and took each witness for the state and gave each a severe drubbing in his argument. Particularly did he dwell on the testimony of B. F. Van Horn, Mr. Irby said, "Mr. Van Horn is a hack driver; you all know what an El Paso hack driver is. Would you believe him."

He also discussed other witnesses, who were rooming house proprietors, and he said, "you all know what an El Paso tooming house proprietors and he said, "you all know what an El Paso tooming house proprietors and he said, "you all know what an El Paso tooming house proprietors and he said, "you all know what an El Paso tooming house proprietors and he said, "you all know chere."

Mr. Irby said that from the testimony of Tom Delany, it was plain that the witness, Sadle Irwin, had been bought by J. D. Lee to testify against Mrs. Orner. Delany had testified that Mrs. Irwin told him she was to get a large portion of J. D. Lee's judgment against the El Paso Electric Railway company for testifying in the Orner case. J. POLO GROUNDS, New York, Oct. 11.—The Philadelphia Athletics, pennant winners of the American league are the model.

Defeating the New York Giants by a score of 3 to 1 today, the Athletics captured their fourth victory of the series of five games. The National league winners won but one game.

Plank's marvelous pitching today when he held the Giants to two hits, makes him the pitching hero of the world's series games. Last Wednesday on the Philadelphia field, Plank shut out the Giants for nine innings, only to lose the contest in the tenth. The Athletic left hander never was in better form, his bewildering cross-fire standing the Giants on their heads. Had not Plank muffed a pop fly with a double play in sight, the Giants would have gone scoreless through the game.

Mathewson also pitched superb ball, and, after the third inning, held the Athletics hitless. The Philadelphia club gathered its three runs in the first three innings. The Philadelphia rooters swarmed down on the diamond and bore Eddie Plank across the field on their shoulders. Thirty-five thousand people saw the plays.

Philadelphia—The crowd gave a big cheer when Matty walked out to the mound. Murphy singled on the first ball pitched. Fletcher being barely able to reach it with his ungloved hand. Murphy was forced at second when Mathewson took Oldring's bunt and tossed it to Fletcher. Collins shot a single to right Oldring easily making third. Oldring scored when Burns caught Baker's sacrifice fly. Burns made a wild throw to the plate, the ball going over McLean's bend Collins went to second on the wild heave. Herzog took McIonis's splash and threw to Doyle, what touched out Collins. One run, two hits, one error.

New York—Plank's first pitch was a ball, knee high. After two balls and two strikes had been called, Plank and Collins had a conference in the pitcher's box. Herzog went out on a five to First Inning.

Should Leave Mother Out.

Mr. Bridgers, in referring to judge Irby's argument that the jury should think of Mrs. Orner as they would their own mother, referred at length to the acts of Mrs. Orner, and then he told the jury that he would not insuit them by asking them to class her with their mothers, and that if the jury could class her with their mothers, and that if the jury could class her with their mothers, he would expect a verdict of not guilty at once and that in the verdict, should they find her not guilty, they should write, "We, the jury in the above entitled and numbered cause find the defendant not guilty, because she is like unto our own mothers," and that whether they wrote that in or not he would know they meant it, if they did acquit her.

Judge Warns Audience. Philadelphia — Dovie tossed out Strunk at first, Mathewson's big looping drop curve was in fine working order. Barry went out on a high fly to Murray. Schang faced Mathewson for the first time in the series and got an infield single, which bounded off Mathewson's glove. Plank bounded off Mathewson's glove. Plank bounded out to Herzog. No runs, one hit no errors. New York—McGraw made a complaint to umpire Klem that Plank was shifting his feet from the slab while making his deliveries. Umpire Klem apparently did not sustain the claim. Baker threw out Burns at first. Baker's throw nearly drew McInnis from the hag. Owen, of Clovis, N. M., met with the New Mexico Jobbers' association during fair week here and secured data to present to the commissioner. Hugh H. Williams, of Deming, is chairman of the commission and M. S. Groves, of Carlsbad, is the other member.

In discussing the case, commissioner Owen said: "We are trying in the state rate case to get relief from the El Paso rate basis that the New Mexico jobber may be on an equal basis with El Paso. The tariff is 25 percent less to El Paso than to any New Mexico point. We intend to bring into the case evidence that will make New Mexico points, such as Albuquerque, Deming, and Las Vegas, on a competitive basis with El Paso. Under existing rates it is possible for El Paso jobbers to local rate goods into New Mexico at a lower rate than we can get goods, making it possible for the dealers to sell cheaper than the Albuquerque jobber can sell right here.

"We have brought a friendly suit against the railroads operating in New! escaped death in their efforts to locate Mexico to bring about an equal or better rate than El Paso now enjoys."
